If you ever seen Grealdon's "Steam sequence" this is that but for wikipedia this is all Wikipedia we'll be going over articles from !! to $0 let's begin

!!-a disambiguation page Retroflex click is !! that's the most interesting thing here

!!!-Pronounced as any monosyllabic sound 3 times is a band that is two bands (Black Liquorice and Pope Smashers) combined as such their genres are crazy: Dance-punk revival alternative dancefunk rock disco-rock indietronica

!!! (album): made by !!! It has really long songs like the shortest one is 5 minutes and 4 seconds the longest 8 minutes and 49 seconds. Don't get me started on the long play version.

!!!(disambiguation): Italy does wine regions and puts punctuation in their name.

!Action Pact!: Hope this doesn't become a theme. A band that played music 2 labels like their songs published them the band split after 2 albums and none of the members had success again

!Arriba! La Pachanga: Cuban album this article is just the track listing not much to say

!Hero: a dystopian rock opera where Jesus is born in Bethlehem Pennsylvania. It also has comic books and three novels written based on it. It's mostly a retelling of the bible unfortunately. There's a wedding of some sort by "bride" being a casted role. Also janitor angel.

!Hero (album): from looking at the track listing it seems that there is a love subplot. In the "cast" section Paul Wright III isn't given a role

!K7: Their a music conglomerate named after their original street address. They released an album made by Tricky not the one your thinking of and own Warner music's entire catalog (yes the one your thinking of) now part of Create Music Group

!Oka Tokat: Something that isn't music related. It was a horror show from 1997-2001 before becoming a horror comedy also at the time of the genre switch the cast completely changed now following the previous main character's cousins. Ended in 2002 rebutted in 2012

!PAUS3: This biographical article is written like a resume. Never seen that warring before. This is the first article I edited by fixing links but a promotion with Radiohead is the most interesting thing this guy did.

!Women Art Revolution: or WAR for short. It covers the history of female art for the 1960s through 70s. It asks people if they can name three female artists. Yoko Ono Taylor Swift Peggy Lee. Easy. It was selected for the Sundance Film Festival. There is also a 12,428 minute version of the film called !W.A.R. Voices of a Movement.

!Wowow!: I think this quote exemplifies !wowow! Well “we could be playful with what we did, but some serious ideas came out of that ridiculous house.” !Wowow! Were a group of people who managed art exhibitions.

! (Cláudia Pascoal album): Cláudia Pascoal after going on Eurovision made an album with help from a bunch of other people. The 1st track is titled “PPPFFFRRR”

! (The Dismemberment Plan album): kinda weird how all the albums we’ve gone over our debut albums except for !Arriba! La Pachanga 13th and Euclid is a song here Steve Cummings only album with this band

! (The Song Formerly Known As): Song by the Regurgitator very well received with multiple reviews giving it nothing but the highest of praise. It’s a song about not going to clubs and just dancing at home.

! (Trippie Redd album): Pronounced “WEep” This album is Redd’s 2ed and features Playboi Carti for its first 6 days of release then Playboi was removed. It was named after XXXTentacion’s “?” I’m sure you’ll be hearing more about that album later. When they were recording a song “MAC-10” Lil Baby was asleep. He was asleep while multiple musicians were playing. That song achieved platinum. The album was a success in Norway peaking at chart position of 8. Also a success in the US peaking at 3

! (disambiguation): Who calls this thing an ecphoneme? Interrobang is the name for !?

That is the last “!” article on the “””

"...And Ladies of the Club" Book about a few people making a book club. One person is addicted to pain killers due to chronic pain. Tries to kill herself once she gets cut off. Has a heart-attack while trying to kill herself and dies. As the story goes on we follow the story of the founding members family’s and the early member’s families ‘till the original members die. They talk about whatever event was happening at the time. John cheats on Sally due to his PTSD. Sally is hurt but lets him continue. It ends with the end of WW1. The book is 1,433 pages. So is the article. Was once the best selling paper back ever.

"28 Nëntori" Gymnasium: This is the 1st secular high school in Albania. The School has “The Honor of the Nation” Their first principal was imprisoned after one year of serving there.

"58% Don't Want Pershing" t-shirt: Katharine Hamnett hated Thatcher so before she met Margrett Thatcher (the at-the-time-prime-minster) at the London Fashion Week reception she made a shirt with “58% Don't Want Pershing” written on it. She then followed Thatcher around heckling her.

"900", Cahiers d'Italie et d'Europe: This was a magazine that was internationalist (promotes corroboration between nations). It published many things that you couldn't do in fascist Italy so it changed to just another fascist magazine.

"95th Anniversary of the Armed Forces of Azerbaijan (1918–2013)" Medal: Medal given to all Azerbaijani military persons who "contributed to the formation and strengthening of the Armed Forces of the Republic of Azerbaijan"; so all of them then.

"A" Fort and Battery Hill Redoubt-Camp Early: Confederate camp that is in Virginia

"A" Is for Alibi: The author (Sue Grafton (we will be seeing a lot of her)) would lie in bed thinking about killing her ex-husband. In an attempt to cull this thinking she wrote a book about someone getting caught killing their husband and goes to jail. That wouldn't make much of a story. It turns out she didn't kill the husband, it was this other guy. Once he finds out that he's been caught he literally brings a knife to a gun fight. This person (our main character Kinsley) with a gun runs. Person with gun still wins though.

"Agathis" jurassica: Surprised it took this long to get to a taxonomy article. These are a tree species that lived at the tail end of the Jurassic period. The quotes in the title mean we don't know what genus it is either Agathis or Podozamites. They closely resemble Agathis but Agathis didn't appear till the Eocene.

"Ako ang Batas" -Gen. Tomas Karingal- A filipino historical film about Tomas Karingal. All of the actors have normal names then there's Big Boy Gomez with no explanation.

"Am I Blue?" (Essay): An essay comparing how we treat animals to how we treat slaves (makes sense) and our non-english-speaking-east-asian-wives (who treats their wife like an animal?)

history of Slavery in the United States, the treatment of Native Americans in the United States and American men who marry non-English-speaking women from East Asia.

"Amanat" Commonwealth of Trade Unions: A political party in Kazakhstan who try to increase workers rights they have never had anyone elected into office.

"Aquifex aeolicus": Taxonomy let's gooooooooo. The quotes here are because we don't know the genus or specious name. They are hyperthermophilic bacteria. They sometimes live in groups of up to 100 members. It is the 1st hyperthermophilic bacteria to have its genome sequenced. It needs O_2 but very little

"Awaken, My Love!": Nominated for many grammys and refused to pay Oteto for his (her?) work. What gender is Oteto … neuter … se's work this album was made by Domald Glover. It is Glover's best selling album. Going through the track listings… George Clinton James Madison's VP! He's still alive? No different George. Going through the personnel track 11 is the only one to have an even somewhat interesting instrumentation

"B" Is for Burglar: Hey Sue Grafton is back! Told you she'd return. Not much to say on this one it seems like a perfectly misleading mystery novel: a lot of clues and things get set up all pointing that Beverly and Pat killed Eline then plot-twist none of those mattered Marty was the real killer. Yes I know Marty is Pat I read the article too.

"BBF" Hosted by DJ Escrow: Is an album released on April fool's day. It has a lot of very short songs: 5 under a minute. Also has very high praise online.

"Babbacombe" Lee: FAIRPORT CONVENTION?!?!?!?!?!?!? I love these guys. Anyway this album is all about John Lee who survived three hanging attempts all of which had the trapdoor fail. I've heard of this story before on a Wendigoon video. This is my article. Anywho this album is often considered the 1st folk rock opera. This album was released with three different track listings due to the strange structure of the album. At this time in the Fairport convention's existence 3 people were named "Dave" on the band.

"Bad News" Barnes: disambiguation page for 2 basketball players

"Balaenoptera" ryani: The confusion on genus this time is between Balaenopteridae and Balaenopteridae. Balaenopteridae is the same genus as the blue whale so they are very closely related.

"By" Dunham: He wrote songs for John Wayne and Randolf Scott (remember those exciting fighting scenes) films. Along with Bob Hope and many other things.

"C" Is for (Please Insert Sophomoric Genitalia Reference Here): This isn’t Sue Grafton this is Puscifer who we will also be seeing more of soon. It is an extended play that other than the name doesn’t seem to have anything unusual about it.

"C" Is for Corpse: This is Sue Grafton. Kinsley meets Bobby who has horrible memory loss from a car crash he thinks the car crash was an attempted murder on him. He then dies in a car crash Kinsley somehow figures out the culprit is Dr. Fraker who gets arrested. Also Kinsley’s landlord’s wife commented identity fraud.

"C" device: given out for praise-worthy achievement on the battle-field. It has 6 different versions: bronze silver gold then the same but with a wreath.

"Centrolene" azulae: Another frog this time the confusion is from Centrolenella and Centrolene though Centrolene is mostly accepted. They are an endangered species.

"Centrolene" medemi: another "Centrolene" frog. We don’t know its subfamily much less its genus. It lives in Colombia with one specimen being found in Ecuador. Females larger than Males

"Centrolene" petrophilum: Man we are really bad with Centrolene both identifying and conserving as they are an endangered species. Females, despite being bigger, abandon their eggs and leave the male to protect them.

“Centrolene" quindianum: AGAIN? Anyway these ones live in the Andes of Colombia. Wait the Andes go that far north? They make it to Venezuela?

"Centrolene" robledoi: =) These ones are preserved in the Ranita Dorada Amphibian Reserve and aren't endangered in the slightest.

"Christmas tree" files: The MI5 made it so the BBC couldn't hire anyone even suspected of sympathizing with the communists or fascists. The files were what people were suspected of sympathizing with communists were called the Christmas tree files; they used a christmas tree symbol due to “O Christmas tree O Christmas tree” having the say tune as “The red flag”.

"Chūsotsu" "Chūkara": These are greatest hits albums released at the same time. One for A-side singles, the other for B and also one brand new song.

"Civilized" Sexual Morality and Modern Nervous Illness: In this scientific article it states that menstruation helps curb stress and therefore is good.

"Cochranella" duidaeana: We don’t know this frog’s subspecies much less its genus. It might be in the genus Cochranella. It lives in North South America just like the other frogs.

"Cochranella" euhystrix: Here we go again. It lives in the Andes of Peru and may be Centrolenella. A recent survey found 0 individuals.

"Cochranella" geijskesi: Very short article for these guys endemic to Suriname and are of least concern on the endangerment metric from IUCN

"Cochranella" ramirezi:This frog is in Colombia.

"Cochranella" riveroi: Or maybe Cochranella? These frogs live in south Veniswallia

"Cochranella" xanthocheridia: This frog is native to Colombia. It is experiencing habitat loss due to deforestation, agriculture and water pollution.

"Coelosaurus" antiquus: This is a species of dino we found 2 tibia and ya we have no idea what genus it is based on that… so Coelosaurus is a place holder till we find enough to figure it out. We have found more but still no idea of the genus.

"Colostethus" poecilonotus: This frog is peruvian. Only one example has ever been found. With how little is discovered we have no idea what genus or family it is in.

"Colostethus" ruthveni: It was assigned “colostethus” when it was a wetbasket taxon (A taxon that is just for organisms that are very distinct from anything else.) It is Colombian.

"Commissioner" Gordon Williams: This isn’t a frog! This is a 3x grammy winning mixer his Wikipedia article has the most "citation neededs” of any I have ever seen. He mixed for many different people citation needed and worked as a professor for music.

"Country" Johnny Mathis: A country singer who penned over 500 songs for a variety of artists. He was a founding member of Jimmy & Johnny. He died on Sep 27 2010 Johnny died sep 27 2010.

"Crocodylus" acer: We have a single skull to go off of for this guy so don't know what genus it's in. Possibly even in a brand new genus. We know it to be closely related to Brachyuranochampsa eversolei.

"Crocodylus" affinis: This is another extinct crocodile. Some said Crocodylus, others Brachyuranochampsa after turns its not in any currently named genus.

"Crocodylus" gariepensis: Not a Crocodylus but maybe an Osteolaemus or Mecistops. Lived in southern Namibia.

"Crocodylus" megarhinus: This one isn't a Crocodylus at all even though it is in the came boat as affinis where no named genus exists for this guy Mekosuchinae or even False gharial are closer relatives then Crocodylus.

"D" Is for Deadbeat: SUE GRAFTONNNNNNNNNN! In this book Kinsley needs to deliver a check for Daggett. The check gets declined Kinsley goes to Daggett to find him a corpse. He was killed by a guy after he hit his friend dead with his car. He then kills himself. Kinsley really did nothing in all of this.

"Deji" Meets Girl: A girl is helping her dad with the hotel over summer when Ichirō Suzuki, yes the Seattle mariner, stays at the hotel. With episode titles such as "You're, Terribly Amazing" I think they fell in love. It was translated into english for use in those short films you sometimes see before movies.

"Detroit City" and Other Hits by Bobby Bare: His debut album. From Bobby Bare a blues turned country singer. This album peaked at # 9 on the Billboard top country albums chart. Many of the songs on this album were released as singles either before or after the album's release.

"Dimorphodon" weintraubi: Like many of these, this is not a Dimorphodon but we know it to be an anurognathidae (which is a family not genus). It is most likely in a genus that has not yet been described "Dragons" armchair: Made between the years 1917 and 1919 the chair sold for $31,292,857 in 2009. Named due to its armrest having dragons written on them. It sold for so much due to its designer being famous also furniture collectors exist.

"Dryosaurus" grandis: Originally called an "affinis" as its specious name. It has been assigned to Archaeornithomimus,Ornithomimus,Coelosaurus (remember Coelosaurus Affinis from earlier that was this guy),Allosaurus, and of course Dryosaurus genii over the years.

"E" Is for Evidence: SUEEUEUEUEUEUU GERGGRAADFATAAON!!!!!!!! In this one we get to see Kinsley's 2ed ex-husband Daniel Wade. So Lance Wood burned down his own plant (like a factory plant) and bribed Kinsley to tell people he's innocent. Kinsley is charged for… something the article doesn't say. It turns out Daniel is working for Wood and trying to kill Kisnley? I don't know what their plan is here. It turns out it wasn't Lance who burned the thing down, it was Hugh of course and he wanted to pin the blame for it on Kinsley and kill her for revenge on Lance. Kinsley kill Hugh and all is well. This book won the 1989 Anthoney best novel.

"Ekbletomys": It is a species of rodent in the genus Oryzomys but the name "hypenemus" (ekbletomys is the subgenus) wasn't published so it has no name. It lived in Antigua and Barbuda. It is often called "undescribed species B" I assume we will get to "A" later. They seemed to live in caves by where we found their bones or maybe these were laid there by owls. Probably got to Antigua and Barbuda by Oceanic dispersal.

"Elektrownia" Gallery of Contemporary Art: The art gallery's building was originally a power plant used for coal mining giving it its name (Elektrownia is Polish for power-plant). It conversion from power-plant to art gallery was funded by the EU

"Encore, Robeson!": A folk album by Paul Robeson. His story is pretty cool. Go check him out. This article is pretty much just a track listing not much to say here.

"Epstein didn't kill himself": Epstein was killed by someone for fear of him saying he Epsteined too. Theories say that Trump, or Hillery killed him. Unfortunately we can't find who due to the guards tampering with evidence. The phase was then memeisfied.

"F" Is for Fugitive: SUE SUE SUE SUE SUE GRAFTON THE WRITING GALL. Jean slept around a lot; when Baily finds out he kills Jean, goes to prison breaks and Kinsley is going to find her. She finds Bailey, she escapes and Tap dies. Do you notice how these books have characters coming out of the ether to which they return? Ann paid Tap to protect Baily and it turns out Ann killed Jean for sleeping around with Dwight. Ann is a yandere. Bailey is freed from the murder. This book was originally to be about catching a Forger and her 1st best seller.

"FF.SS." – Cioè: "...che mi hai portato a fare sopra a Posillipo se non mi vuoi più bene?": Italian (could you tell?) comedy movie directed by Renzo Arbore. Renzo Arbore finds a screenplay on the ground and turns it into a movie over the course of this movie. It is hated.

"False positives" scandal: Colombian generals would kill random people and claim that they were communist rebels to get promotions. The Colombian government cracked down on it. Then Juan Manuel Santos was elected he didn't believe the "false positive" scandal existed so reverted the laws meant to stop it. But he made a peace treaty with the communist rebels and all was over.

"Fast" Eddie Clarke: Named “fast” for how fast he could play notes he was in the bands Fastway and Motörhead. He started from barely getting any record deals then getting none then giving up. Then while fixing a house boat Phil Tayler invited him to Motörhead. He was then kicked off Motörhead. Next he formed Fastway with Pete Way and Topper Headson (shouldn’t they name it fastheadway?) after Dave King and Jerry Shirley joined. Mr.Way and Headson left and the band signed a deal with CBS Jerry Shirley left and “three of King’s friends came to replace him” King and his friends left and Lea Hart with a bunch of other people to replace them. Lea left (as is a Fastway custom at this point) then Clarke got sick and left. He then did a bit of solo stuff and died.

"Faster, better, cheaper" approach: more smaller missions using more off-the-shelf products
-Nasa 1992
This was due to a diminished budget due to the space race being over. The better part is due to the instruments being better due to them being more modern. Now after the initial success of FBC (acronym) they decided to go even cheaper then missions started failing so they stopped. The project was criticized being that most missions only had 2 of the 3 criteria. NASA stopped due to the ⅜ failure rate. The ESA saw NASA’s success; they partially implemented the FBC strategy with the “faster, smarter, more cost-effective” strategy.

"Fish Alive" 30min., 1 Sequence by 6 Songs Sakanaquarium 2009 @ Sapporo: I see the Japanese never got over the mid-1800s naming scheme. Congrats to the one person (me) who got that joke. This is a live extended play by Sakanaquarium it is 30 minutes and 4 seconds long it contains 6 songs all released beforehand but these are the live versions

"Five Points of a New Architecture":
DODODODODODDODODODODODODDODODODODODODO

"Five stars rising in the East" armband: An ancient Chinese armband saying that 5 stars appeared in the east. It is believed to be made during the Later Han/ Early Jin dynasties. The “5 stars” inquisition are believed to be the 5 classical plants (Mercury Venus Mars Jupiter Saturn)

"Frantic" Fay Thomas: She was a musician who made 8 songs. These few songs did make quite the impression as they were featured in 5 movies.

"G" Is for Gumshoe:
SEUSUESUEUSUEUDODOODDODODODODDODSOEOSOEdsoEODSOOSEDOSEDSOSOEDXOSEDXSOEOdosODoSESOEdSODESDODosDOsodsoEdOSE!!!!!!!!! This is one where I realise that “x” (the 24th novel in Sue’s alphabet series) doesn't have the “”” I won't read that one I guess.

DDPDODODODDO

"Galway Joe" Dolan: Named due to being born in Galway and being in the Irish showband scene like another Joe Dolan he was a founding member of Sweeney's Men with Andy Irving

(the plains of Kildare guy I love this man). He left Sweeney's Men to fight in a war that would later be named the 6 days war he arrived a year after it ended.

"Gjergj Kastrioti Skënderbeu" Decoration: Award given out for strengthening the State of Albania. For an award like this you may think most of the recipients are Albanian but looking through the recipient section you see many balkans that aren't Albania many from the Arabian and Italian peninsulas and the US of A

"Glozel est Authentique!": A call of cthulhu game where you must figure out if an archaeological dig is authentic and steal Russian secrets.

"Go Home" vans: The UK sold Vans with "go home or face arrest" then instructions on how to go home; written on them it is estimated over 60 people unimigrated due to these. This was probably an attempt to appeal to right British people with the least expenditure possible.

"Good Hair" and Other Dubious Distinctions: A documentary on how you don't need to be conventionally beautiful to be loved as a black person. True, just be kind and compassionate and most everyone will love you even if you're white.

"Good chap" theory: British politicians don't overstep their authority even if the constitution says they would be able to. If they due however they will resign after. It's also not to give away government secrets, that is what bad chaps do. Once Borris came to office the "good chap" collective broke down, no one resigns everyone gives away public secrets.

"Good day, fellow!" "Axe handle!": A man has a wife and daughters who splurge his money away. When it comes time to pay the bill he prepares the conversation ahead of time. Leading to such funny lines as

Good day, fellow! -Bailif
Axe handle - the man

"Where is your wife, man?"- Bailif
“I’m going to tar her” -man
